Our Judges

Milynda Rogers also known as Scrapmetalsheila.

"Why Scrapmetalsheila? Scrapmetal for what I work with and Sheila because I connect this name with the typical Aussie woman. Steel is tough and hard to bend but it is also able to adapt and be shaped into virtually anything, it is very versatile and easy to weld it into a sculpture, it ages slowly in dry climates. Aussie Sheilas are very similar in properties to steel. I have created many private commissions and public works. I love working with steel and wire and creating something that will last a lifetime. I am always working on a commission or some of my own work which I sell at different places or put on the Lake Dunn Sculpture Trail."

Leah Cameron.

Leah is from Quilpie where she has a business Quilpie Country Collections. A talented artist who learned the bones of painting through the Flying Art School, Leah Cameron is well known for her local landscapes but even more so for her beautiful interior and still-life portrayals and her attention to detail.

It is geographically identified as the Centre of Queensland and also is Home of the Muttaborrasaurus Langdoni. The community's major asset is the network of water courses that venture from the north and west and meet below the community where they all form into the Thomson River. Hence, the name, which was an aboriginal word "Mootaborra" meaning Meeting of the Waters. There are 100 people in our community with approximately another 150 on properties in the surrounding district. Cattle and Sheep production are our major industries.

On the day be there to meet.....

Tom Wyatt is deservedly a household name around much of Queensland. He has been giving practical advice on gardening to millions of Queenslanders on ABC Radio for almost two decades and he has been instrumental in creating or developing city botanical gardens in Rockhampton, Emerald and elsewhere in Central Queensland. Tom's a walking encyclopaedia of gardening knowledge particularly when it comes to tropical and sub-tropical plants. So roll up your sleeves and learn from Gardening Guru Tom Wyatt how to create a garden, whether the sand of the beach garden or in clay soil, set hard as concrete, in the dry tropics. And never forget the first commandment; Thou shalt love thy compost heap! If it's an insect and it eats your plants, spray it till it's dead! If it's a cane toad, squash it! If it's 'unthrifty', put a compost bomb under it! Take no prisoners. This is a Tom Wyatt garden. Exotics or natives, fruit trees or palm trees, vegetables or hardy annuals, the Gardening Guru of the Tropics will tell you how to grow it and how to protect it from predatory insects and fungal diseases. Every question you've ever wanted to ask about soils, compost, fertiliser, organic feed, humus, mulching, spraying and pruning, Tom will assist you. So roll up your sleeves, get advice from the Tom, mix your sprays, barrel out your fertiliser and get your garden blooming.
